Now if there's one thing
I'll hold against my heart
With the strength of the sea
It'll be this love

A ride through hell
Made easier
By hands holding me up
And never letting go
Despite my wounds
These ruined vines
Shadows swallow me
I turn my head and I'm whole again

Now if there's one thing
I'll hold against my heart
With the strength of the sea
It'll be this love
Now if there's one thing
I'll keep inside my heart
With the strength of the sea
It'll be this love you gave me

My only hope
Is that my deeds
Have somehow earned their place
As a pleasant memory
In our heart of hearts
Nothing else will matter
Bothers in arms forever
Forever
