Murdered in twos, buried in fours

Yesterday was never like this
Swinging ideas back and forth
All we saw were giants burning
A healthy dose of living it up
Now the rain, the rain has stopped
Step inside, the flooding begins
We're collapsing, ashes crumbling
Casualties all of us

Enter another path
A knife into your heart
Breaking into a smile
As your blood flows
(As fast as your empty words)

Tolerate the scent of a king
Who in his own world cries foul
No matter what his skeletons say
In his closet, they all dance
"I am right! Oh, I am right!"
He's proclaiming, keeps on laughing
While he hides his broken smile

I fell like putting on the devil's face
