"Feel The Raindrops"

I am injured and confused
Feel the pressures of my youth.
In my innocence they drag me down

There is nothing left to lose.

I feel the raindrops on my head

Watch the sun 'til my eyes turn red

Still I can hear those things you said
You said.

Through the rain I feel your tears

Helps me beat these endless years.
Just one feeling lingers that of sorrow

Now I'm screaming
No one hears.
I feel the raindrops on my head
...

I feel the raindrops on my head

...
I feel the raindrops on my head
