Don't you ever think of just seeing me on the TV SCREEN?
Or in a magazine that my life it seems to be one big fantasy
Cause life is just a dream, and when the lights go down and the cameras wrap and go
I get to be really be me, maybe you can't see
But one thing you should know is that I

Fight just like you, think just like you
Work just like, hurt just like you
Breath just like you, bleed just like you
Cause I have feelings too
I make mistakes just like you, I pray just like you
In love just like you, got bills just like you
Im only human loved by millions
Im just like you

And just because I fly in friendly skies
From sea to shining sea, people know my name They recognize my face, but if I wasn't mo would they love me the same but Some nights I never get to sleep cause so many people to please
Sometimes I wish I was you so you could walk in my shoes
And see how much im really just like you cause

Fight just like you, think just like you
Work just like, hurt just like you
Breath just like you, bleed just like you
Cause I have feelings too
I make mistakes just like you, I pray just like you
In love just like you, got bills just like you
Im only human loved by millions
Im just like you

I don't know where I would be
If wasn't for you being in my life

Although you look up to me
You gotta believe that I make mistakes some times

A perfect life you think
Thought im living my dream
But that's the human in me
It's just the words I sing
And soon you will see how im just like you and your just like me

Fight just like you, think just like you
Work just like, hurt just like you
Breath just like you, bleed just like you
Cause I have feelings too
I make mistakes just like you, I pray just like you
In love just like you, got bills just like you
Im only human loved by millions
Im just like you

I don't know where I would be
If wasn't for you being in my life
Although you look up to me
You gotta believe that I make mistakes some times
A perfect life you think
Thought im living my dream
But that's the human in me
It's just the words I sing
And soon you will see how im just like you and your just
like me

Fight just like you, think just like you
Work just like, hurt just like you
Breath just like you, bleed just like you
