I was only a drifter
Cut loose on an empty sea
Like we all seem to go through the place we don't know
With the lost, on the run, overtaken, and gone

Follow the star
You don't know where it leads you
But you are better off undone
Follow the star
Choose the path of a wise man
From the east to the western sun

Are you looking for something?
Can I ask if you feel unloved?
You can try, you can try
If you're still feeling useless,
Lost, on the run, overtaken, and gone

Follow the star
You don't know where it leads you
But you are better off undone
Follow the star
Choose the path of a wise man
From the east to the western sun

Follow the star
You don't know where it leads you
But you are better off undone
Pack up your car
Take your friends, take your chances,
East to the western
East to the western

Follow the star
You don't know where it leads you
But you are better off undone
Follow the star
Choose the path of a wise man
From the east to the western
East to the western

Follow the star
You don't know where it leads you
But you are better off undone
Follow the star
Choose the path of a wise man
From the east to the western
East to the western
East to the western
East to the western sun
