At first I didn't understand when she walked through the door

You let go of my hand and then I knew there must be more

I tried to tell myself that you were only friends

But your eyes betrayed the smile you gave

And I knew right there and then

You were changing faces

Right before my eyes

One for her and one for me

And then I realized

Changing faces

That moment I was sure

I'd be changing places with her

Please don't introduce me, don't be so polite

Tomorrow I'll get over you if I just get through tonight

I don't think I can stand it while she's standing over there

If you just want someone on your arm

Then she's the one to wear

You were changing faces

Right before my eyes

One for her and one for me

And then I realized

Changing faces

That moment I was sure

I'd be changing places with her

I think I'm gonna walk away

Head right for the door

Maybe I should stay and fight

But look what I'd be fighting for

I wanted so much more

Changing faces

That moment I was sure

While you were changing faces
I'd be changing places with her

Changing faces
The look that did you in
One for her and one for me
Now I can't go back again

Changing faces
That moment I was sure
I'd be changing places with her

Changing faces
Right before my eyes
One for her and one for me
Neither one I recognized

Changing faces
That moment I was sure
I'd be changing places with her
