Well I felt this coming on for a long, long time

When everything turns red, it's such a bad sign

Just a little bit of light would've helped me see

That every loaded gun wasn't aimed at me

Could've set me free

You made me

Betrayed me

Too many times

A jaded Delilah

Live, learn, and die

Now You Know

Been livin' with my head in the deep, blue sea

So why does everyone seem so afraid of me

Just a little bit of air would've helped me breathe

When there is no such solution take your leave

Put your mind at ease

Release me just to please me, Way too late

Your time was impatient, Seal my fate

Now You Know

You think the start of this was yesterday

Been scratchin' and clawin' just to find my way out

How could you ever let me dig so deep?

Well, Now I Know

Now You Know

Now You Know
