I can move the mountains on a clear day,

But sometimes they can crash into the sea.

Look around, choose your poison.

Otherwise, you'll have no choice in living

Your life the way it's mean to be.

But one more believer is all that we need.

The scars on our knees is the proof that we bleed.

But I know, oh, I know

Where to go

Oh, 'cause she's my salvation

When the world gets oh so lonely I escape.

She's my salvation.

One lover's pain is another man's relief.

But I know, oh, I know

This feeling's got to go.

When the time is right, you'll see a new way.

The road is paved with gold and leads you home again.

Bad news most everyday,

Wonder why I run away

Got to find a sanctuary.

Find your own peace in the rules that you make.

Believin' your eyes is the first big mistake.

But I know, oh, I know

Where to go.

Oh, 'cause she's my salvation

When the world gets oh so lonely I escape.

Oh, now, she's my salvation.

One lover's pain is another man's relief.

But I know, oh, I know

This feeling's got to go.

Now she's my salvation

When the world gets oh so lonely I escape.

Oh, now she's my inspiration

Unspoken lies, another fool's belief.

But I know, oh, I know

This feeling's got to go.

She's my Salvation, She's my Salvation

She's my Salvation, She's my Salvation

The first big mistake is letting

The things around you get you down.

Find salvation in something or someone

And make that your sanctuary.

Unless you do this, you're lost.
