Sleep all day when you're away, stay awake at night
when you're nearby
Months before I'd slam the door while talking to you
where I'd lie.
Earlier my hands stay sore as I tap them on the key
Untreated and hourly, now I'm bruise, tired, and sore
Never felt so good before.

Lonley past alone when I was unknown
Although I'm far from home, I'll never be alone.

Now it's late, we drift away as the silence takes over our speech
In a dream with you and me as we walk so patiently
Again alive, a plan, a drive, as the night becomes the ride
The mourning resides inside.
Here you'll always be beside, with me we will hide.

Lonley past alone when I was unknown
Although I'm far from home, I'll never be alone.

Far away from the pain game, stay away...
Far away from the pain game, stay away...
When I saw my past die for the very first time
Eye's shy, breath sigh, don't cry
Catch me as I'm falling.

When I saw my past die
Eye's shy, breath sigh, don't cry, don't cry
Baby, don't cry.
When I saw my past die, breathe.
Borderline can't keep me far behind.

Lonley past alone when I was unknown
Although I'm far from home, I'll never be alone.

Far away from the pain game, stay away...
Far away from the pain game, stay away...
