She came to me one summer night
The moon was red, the time was right
She whispered in my ear, "You've got to go."
Fly away and make a new start
Discover what sets you apart
She kissed me on the cheek and disappeared

I realized what I had feared
So I'm searching for my judgment day

Heartless is the cold, under the stars I pray
Lifeless is the dark, my passion lights the way

Run with me, no boundary can block my point of view
Escape with me, a fantasy come true
Endless seasons with you
Till the end I'm with you
Until the end of the world

Find it hard to say goodbye
To understand the reasons why
I've got to break the chains that hold me down
Still I wish you'd show your face again
As I'm searching, it's just not the same

I can't recall what games children play
Faceless is the flame that lights my golden way

Run with me, no boundary can block my point of view
Escape with me, a fantasy come true
Endless seasons with you
Till the end I'm with you
Until the end of the world

I'm left alone while nature takes it's toll
Just let me be so I can save my soul

Run with me, no boundary can block my point of view
Escape with me, a fantasy come true
Endless seasons with you
Till the end I'm with you

Until the end of the world

She came to me one summer night
The moon was red, the time was right
She whispered in my ear, "You've got to go."
And fighting back the tears
She kissed me on the cheek and let me go
