its about life
its about fun

i hate you i love you i just cant remember to forget you who are you who needs you you make me feel alive i die so high im crawling on the ground and i found i cant fly chorus:

one of these days it all comes together one of those days it goes on forever think i sound crazy maybe whatever whats it all about its about life its about fun its over before it has begun its about you its about me its about everything between and i say i say goodbye to you i say hi to you without a clue its about time that i make up my mind its simple confusing the truth is im winning but im losing im pulling and pushing wont do me any good it could it should im honest to myself that the truth is i lied

time is creeping behind me surrounding around me claiming the words so desperately now give me a reason that i can believe in time is something you cant rewind chorus 2x
