Simply, knowing you exist
Ain't good enough for me
But asking, for your telephone number
Seems highly inappropriate Seen as I cant even say hi, when you walk by
And that time u shook my hand
I swear I never felt this way bout any other guy
And I never usually notice peoples eyes but

I conducted a plan
To bump into you most accidentally
But I was walking along
And I bumped into you much more heavily than id originally planned
It was well embarrassing and I think u thought I was a bit of a twat

I just think that we'd get on I wish I could tell you face to face instead of singing this stupid song
But yeah I just think that we mite get on

So I went to that party, everyone they look kind of arty
And I was wearing this dress coz I wanted to impress
But I wasn't sure if I looked my best Coz I was so nervous but I carried on regardless Started to eat and trying to find you
And when I saw you kissing that girl
My heart it shattered
And my eyes they watered
And when I tried to speak and stuttered

And my friends were like whatever you'll find someone better
His eyes are way to close together
And we never even liked him from the start
And now he's with that tart
And I heard she done some really nasty stuff down in the park with Michael He said she's easy and if your guys with someone who's sleazy
Then he aint worth your time

Coz you deserve a real nice guy
So I proceded to get drunk
And to cry, and lock myself in the toilets the entire night

Saturday night
I watched channel 5
I particularly like CSIco s shite
I don't ever dream about you and me
I don't ever make up stuff about us that would be considered insanity

I don't ever drive by your house to see if your in I don't even have an opinion on that tramp that you are still seeing
I don't know your time table
I don't know your face off by heart
But I must admit that there is still a part that thinks that we mite get on
We mite get on
