Someone sitting next to me on the balcony
And I try to be truthfull about life
But it's useless to be truthfull
With someone who leaves you behind
So why try
Looking for something you'll never find.

Suddenly when I was walking
It struck me the other day
Love lets go

Perhaps Love is a concept that changes
As we go
Possibly it isn't anything
At all

Where is Love? Where is Love
When the the lights are low

I feel beautiful
And I'm not alone
And I'm reaching out
But it's not around
Will I ever find
Does anybody know

Where is Love?

Princesses have found emancipation
And princes dressed to saviours don't belong
In America we're pionneering heroes
Goddesses are rising up when we're alone

Where is Love? Where is Love
When the lights are
Low

I feel beautiful
And I'm not alone
And I'm reaching out
But it's not around
Will I ever find

Does anybody know

Where is Love

All the men I love are already taken
All the lovers I've had are lost
But it's dangerous to strangers
Empty feelings when they're gone
If only I was heartless and be strong

Where is Love? Where is Love
When the lights are
Low

I feel beautiful
And I'm not alone
And I'm reaching out
But it's not around
Will I ever find
Does anybody know

Where is Love?
Where is Love!
Where is Love
When the lights are low
Where is Love
