I open my eyes to find you're not there
And quickly arise
Yes I was led to believe we had a love affair
But you have deceived me

Will my life be confined and memories of you
Thoughts in my mind
Give back the heart that you stole
My love for you has been so out of control

CHORUS

I was a fool
To have fallen for you
Yes I was a fool
To have fallen for you
Now as you exit the stage and close another life
I'm turning the page
To ask who has taken my place
I need to have just one more look at your place

Repeat CHORUS and fade.
