"Prophetic Dreams"

The era of innocence has ended, a grotesque darkness reveals it self Reflecting mankind's ill-will, heed the premonition, total overkill Blemished landscapes of desolation emerge in my
prophetic dreams
Surreal overtones of devastation, the last link to sanity Bizarre symptoms of vile revelation Dismal post apocalyptic environments Ruins of disgraceful rancid nations
The angel of death has now descent on earth Silhouettes of specter shadows, warped and putrid images Deteriorating souls of the damned, roaming a barren region
A lifetime in purgatory, atonement in agony Ashes of incinerated corpses drift like desert sand in the air
Generating an unholy shaded atmosphere
A funeral steam drapes the abandoned land of lost horizons Darkness conquers and devour, reaping the souls of the forsaken
In an immense blackness never to be awaken
