You can do magic
You took the raindrops that filled my eyes
And put them back up in the skies and then made the grey skies turn blue

You can do magic
You took a heart that was broken in two
And you put it back together, know how to keep it beating
I beg you not to stop and pray you keep repeating your

Magic, magic; you can do magic baby
You can do magic, magic
And I know that every dream of every lover comes true
When you can do magic, magic
Like you can do magic honey
Love is never tragical
When you go the magical feelings coming through.

I was a loser
Love was a game that I'd never learned I lost to every mother's son until I forgot just how to play

Now I remember
You took my hand and showed me the way
And it must have been the magic added to your kissing
'Cause love is never good if love is ever missing your

Magic, magic; you can do magic baby
You can do magic, magic
And I know that every dream of every lover comes true
When you can do magic, magic
Like you can do magic honey
Love is never tragical
When you go the magical feelings coming through Feelings coming through

You can do magic, magic
You can do magic baby
You can do magic, magic
And I know that every dream of every lover comes true

when you can do magic

You can do magic baby

You can do magic, magic

And I know that every dream of every lover comes true

when you can do magic

[Repeat and FADE]
