

Linda Perry "Some Days Never End"

Visit "Some Days Never End" on MotoLyrics.com

Have you ever wanted to corrupt the whole wide world?
'cause your sick and tired of watching everyone
Stop to smell the roses

Everydays a fuckin holiday for you my friend

Maybe you would like to share the wealth

Or graciously pretend

Does anybody really truly know what p.c. means?

Maybe it's just another way to say

Hey we don't like what you are doing

Waiting for a big gold medal to fall from out of the sky

Awarding you good samaritan of 1999

Sometimes I'd like to throw a brick or two

At all the aggravating fates of doom

We'd like to recognize the pains your going through

But somedays never seem to end

2-3

Are we sane or have we lost it once again

We can only hope this day will come to an end

Have you ever wanted to blow up the whole wide world?

'cause your sick and tired of all the politics

That screw you out of rent

Waiting to climb up the ladder that shows a better life

But it don't include exactly how, which way, when or why

Sometimes I'd like to throw a brick or two

At all the superficial pricks in the zoo

We'd like to recognize the pains your going through

But somedays never seem to end

2-3

Are we sane or have we lost it once again

We can only hope somedays will never end

Are we sane or have we lost it once again

We can only hope somedays will never end

We'd like to recognize your lack of patience my friend

But somedays will never seem to end!
