The rain doesn't fall on me any more
The sun doesn't feel as warm as before
Stars seem far away and fading from sight
All the beautiful things in my life
They're all gone, all gone, all gone now

Close talks, long walks taken with friends
Getting dirty playing with the neighborhood kids
Waking up early to see the sun rise
All the meaningful things in my life
They're all gone, all gone, all gone now

Song birds, summer words in my ear
The fingers of the wind brushing my hair
The mold on the leaves as they die each year
The magical things in my life
They're all gone, all gone, all gone now
