

Linda Ronstadt "Driftin'"

Visit "Driftin'" on MotoLyrics.com

Autumn

The frost has come and kissed all the leaves to sleep forever

Time sketches a few lines and etches its wishes into our lives

See how everything's changing

And see how time is rearranging the people and the places

Keeping nothing sacred

And like the leaves

In the autumn wind

We're driftin'

We've been too many places

We've seen too much

Touched too many faces

To think that there's just one way to love or that there's just a day to love

Somewhere some special moment in time and space

(....) face to face

But our lives are borrowed

We love today and die tomorrow

Like the leaves in the autumn wind

We're driftin'

I will always be grateful

That time has granted us the right

To be lovers if for just a moment

We live in the (...) and we know it

So if today is our last one

Let's run out into the sun, ohh

Love, hold onto my hand

Hold on as long as you can

For just like leaves in the autumn wind

We're driftin'

Just like leaves in the autumn wind

We're driftin'

Visit Linda Ronstadt page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

