Day turns to night
and I turn on my side
to face my wife and child

Home to hold you tight beneath the stars
that shine so bright in northern skies

Here I take my place in troubled times
your clarity is my peace of mind

Time make a change
and in return
my solitude is laid to rest for always

Swim in the river
waltz out together
swim in the river

now and forever

Fool I was to be a little helpless
so starry eyed I could not see

Now you're all I need a way of life
a world away from where I was
for always

Swim in the river
waltz out together
swim in the river

Day turns to night
for always
