Hot coffee burns my mouth, I been staring in a dream
The money would be good, I think but not as good as clean
I would have more sense if I could sense what I could have
I'm learning things about myself that I never knew I had

My mind, can't stop the things that make me want it
My mind, can't stop these things
My mind, has enough to do without you on it
My mind, can't wait to see you try and stop it

I've held my eyes wide open but it's very hard to see The slimy hidden dangers unless you've got ESP
I would have more sense if I could sense what I could
have
I'm learning things about myself that I never knew I had

My mind, can't stop the things that make me want it
My mind, can't stop these things
My mind, has enough to do without you on it

My mind, can't wait to see you try and stop it

I want some kind of contact with you, you must admit I haven't bugged you
So you're due for some annoyance, the last three months you've had enjoyment
Out of watching them contain it, uninvited you obtained it
From the unsuspecting shameless but you're not exactly blameless
My mind, has enough to do without you on it
My mind, can't stop the things that make me want it
My mind, has enough to do without you on it
My mind, has enough to do with

My mind, can't stop the things that make me want it
My mind, can't stop these things
My mind, has enough to do without you on it
My mind, can't wait to see you try and stop it

Try and stop it, try and stop it
