An angel must've looked down on me,
and said this girl has had enough.
'cause I was hitting every wall in my path,
even the simple things seemed so tough.

But like a storm passin over my head,
all my troubles seemed to drift along,
the moment that you came into my life.
I've been singin the same sweet song.

It doesn't get any better than it is right now,
yeah you taught me what true love is, baby and how.
baby and how

There's people in this world with problems, some bigger than a heart shoud bare.
I look back and I feel so foolish,
all I've been missin' is you're smile there.

And I promise you that I'll remember,
next time baby that I'm feelin blue.
There's a light that will shine forever,
in the way that I feel for you.

It doesn't get any better than it is right now,
yeah you taught me what true love is, baby and how.
baby and how

ooh, yeah
Can we take it higher and higher?
I dont think we could much higher baby.
ooh, yeah

No it doesn't get any better than it is right now, yeah you taught me what true love is, baby and how.
It doesn't get any better than it is right now,
yeah you taught me what true love is, baby and how.
