Fighting for a cause I can't remember anymore
Well I guess you could say that I was framed
Somebody said there would be a knock at my door
Oh but that knock it never came

I changed my name I went insane
Still I can't complain standing in the Bel Air rain
Standing in the Bel Air rain
Standing in the Bel Air rain

In my younger days I was mistaken for a whore
I guess you could say I lived in shame
Everyone's peace lives side by side with their war
Oh but eventually everyone gets tamed

I changed my name I went insane
Still I can't complain standing in the Bel Air rain
Standing in the Bel Air rain
Standing in the Bel Air rain
