"I Must Go"

I've been trying to get you
Hey little girl, leave the little drug alone
I just can't seem to get through
Hey little girl, leave the little drug alone
You leave in the morning but you don't come back
Hey little girl, you're leaving me all alone

Hey little girl, you're on the wrong track
Hey little girl, leave the little drug alone

I've been waiting, contemplating, now I know . . .
If you're aching, heart's breaking, let the four winds blow . . .

And this is why I must go
Why I must go
Why I must go

Why I must go
I must go

You just can't choose between the lie and the fact
Hey little girl, leave the little drug alone
Hey little girl, you're on the wrong track
