Why do these thoughts loom so large
They stay and stay
Day after day
And won't dissappear
My hair's turning grey

But she smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
And says don't worry
No, no, no, no

Why do they hide inside of me
They take the peace most every day

And so begin again, begin again

Well that's what she said so softly
I understood for once in my life
And feeling good most all of the time

'Cause she smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
She smiled sweetly
And says don't worry
No, no, no, no
No, no, no, no
No, no, no, no
No, no, no, no
