An old man has told us he will see our future we're lost our time for stupid policy

The nature is the rule not money is the future the mad leaders lying the fools telling the truth

Oh no
the nations of this planet are led by a secret society and working in the name of the madman's sign
Oh no
the gun on our head

The demons we call
they never leave the hall with thirteen holy wise man they never lost a war
The demons we call
they never leave the hall
the thirteen glorious judges are the leaders of the world

Behind higher walls there are sitting thirteen liars they're blinding our mind and steal us the truth

To fight against those spirit they tell us "You're a liar"
no one had seen them or listened to those ghosts

Oh no
the nations of this planet are led by a secret society
and working in the name of the madman's sign
Oh no
no place and no time to run
