Layin awake again and I dont know whats happening im setting sail on unknown seas and im haunted by insecurities im standing on the edge of dream colliding with the light of this real life scene and i dont fee; a thing until the pain comes and when its all said and done would i just cut and run sometimes im so numb i dont know if it happened tonight would i stand and fight or would i just let go

Chorus:

whatcha gonna do when its on you boy whatcha gonna say when its no no more whatcha really gonna do when its all through boy whatcha gonna say when its over now maybe its the time of the year but i dont feel my soul shine locked up inside and floating on the cheap wine but theres a smell in the air and i swear somethings there blowing in on a californina night so of its all gone and i cant go on well im sure as hell not ready to die
