I know that its over I hate when its over,
the more i think about you the more I want to call (I think I'll call)

now that you see me can you belive me,
why do you look so scared,
(please dont cry)

I dont know if I can live without you
(what is left of me without you)

I dont know if I am free without you
(how can I obsess without you!)

the more I think of you the more it intenceifies my heart,
hideing in a sea of lies,
once I swore I die for you now Im not so sure,
(I dont think you are real enymore)

I cant change you,
(you cant change me)

now we'r through

I dont if can live without you
(what is left of me without you)

I dont know if I am free without you
(how can I obsess without you)

she's gone, what is left of me without you (how can I obsess without you)
she's gone, what is left of me without you (how can I
obsess without you)
she's gone, what is left of me without you (how can i obsess without you)

SHE'S GONE!!!! (without you)
