I dropped everything for you when you walked in you made me lose concentration you span right through my imagination it used to be okay

whenever you would stay but now you're always sleeping and Im always creeping around

you're not worth all this effort

I've nver felt so tired keeping track of your eyes you pay her too much attention then you forgot to mention me what about me

am I worth the effort?
am I worth the effort?
