

Lionel Richie

"Eternity"

Visit "Eternity" on MotoLyrics.com

There is a place for us for all the world to see
There is a place out there I know somewhere for all
eternity

Here we stand all God's children together
Trying to see where we belong
With hills and valleys to conquer
It's time we weathered the storm

Everybody is looking for something Something they can hold onto We're lost in a sea of confusion
It's hard to know what to do

There is a place for us for all the world to see
There is place out there I know for all eternity

Where do we go tell me sisters and brothers?
How much wrong must we do to be right?
It's time that we look in the mirror
It's time that we see the same light

I know, I know everybody is searching
Why can't we just all get along?
It's time that we all come together
It's time that we sing the same song

There is a place for us for all the world to see
There is place out there I know for all eternity

Oh yes, oh yes, oh yes, the sun will shine
Oh I know, I know for all mankind
Where we can find love, oh love, oh love

There is a place for us I know for all the world to see
There is place out there I know for all eternity

There is a place for us for all the world to see
There is place out there I know for all eternity
Eternity, eternity, for all eternity

