beg forgiveness say you're sorry one more time divert attention to your glory from your crimes our memories are short attention spans are small choke on explanations desperation watch you fall so put your foot down right now left right left right pound the ground nothing ever changes disillusioned faces far and wide nothing ever changes disillusioned faces why do we let them thrive?
circumvent the issue pass along the blame the message from your mouth it never stays the same same old story groundhog day on Sussix drive through the media the messenger survives disconnect me and you the disrespect follows through from east to west we'll start anew we'll build ground up beginning with the truth
