You say it doesn't matter but you're holding on too tight
Whatever helps you sleep at night
You take another breath and then you feel it grab hold
Relax and let it warm the cold
Falling further left behind
Will you ever learn to compromise?
40 times before
You walked back in through the door
Will you ever become the man you wanted to desperately
To be
It takes you to a place far away from here
For a moment life just seems so clear
Once you make it there you'll never want to return
But sooner or later you'll learn
Falling further left behind
Take another trip inside your mind
