Set up lights down and then we hit the stage
I never knew anything could make me feel this way Stay hard and give it everything we've got One note is all I need to know
I float away yeah
To a place where everything is fine
You're standing on a mountain all your thoughts
surround you and you open your eyes
Don't mean to act indifferent I guess I'm just surprised Bombarded by the feeling coming over me
Head first I dive into a pool of energy
I float away yeah
To a place where everything is fine
You're standing on a mountain all your thoughts
surround you and you open your eyes Sometimes you'll find that happiness wears an unsuspecting disguise
I float away I float away to another place Where nothing is the same no nothing is the same as here
I float away to a place far away from here
