icy water pulls me down, surrounding me drifting with the gentle stream, embracing me too weary to reach the surface a soldier of fortune bearing arms without belief he's been under fire and has never felt no grief pride and glory the innocent dying for pride and glory

i hear them beg for mercy the terrifying screams i hear them echo in my mind, cryin'

i'm drowning slowly inside the dream i choke on the water drowning slow and i see the visions of slaughter awake in a cold sweat haunted by the things he saw the silhouettes dancing on the bedroom paperwall hell and fire the yesterday victims it's hell and fire

screams i hear them echo in my mind, cryin'

the hero in shadows for the gold he sells his soul to fight for the honor every mercenary's goal pride and glory
