You yell my name,
But will I be coming?
Should I be running?
Should I believe in you?

You yell my name,
But will I be coming?
Should I be running?
Should I believe in you?

I've wasted all this time,
Trying to stand by your side.
The wolves are coming out tonight,
But they have heard your cry.

And no one will believe you now,
There's no place to hide,
And now the wolves that you have cried will eat you
alive.

It's just you out in the field,
They're showing their teeth behind your back,
They're foaming at the mouth while they're waiting to attack.
Howlin' in your ears as they surround you,
They smelled you,
They feed off of your cry.

I've wasted all this time,
Trying to stand by your side.
The wolves are coming out tonight,
But they have heard your cry.

And no one will believe you now,
There's no place to hide,
And now the wolves that you have cried will eat you
alive.

Eat you alive.

"To [something] the people"
Wipe that smile off your fucking face,

This is no laughing matter.

Under the moon,
They mark your cry,
With their howling at night,
Will you be faster to lose them?
Or will they catch you?
When you run for your life,
There's no way to hide your fear.

Run for your life.
You are the victim,
You are the bait,
You are the victim,
You are the bait.

I've wasted all this time,
Trying to stand by your side.
Wolves are coming out,
They have heard your cry.

No one will believe you,
No place to hide,
Wolves are coming out tonight to eat you alive.
