You say this world is full of sinners and heartache is everywhere you look. you Are scared to death cause tears are all love has broght you well darlin let me Rewrite the book.

Sin it would be a sin not to love and tears i'll dry them all for you Heartaches everyone will be forgotten and death untill then i will be true.

If you let me i can be your angel and i will stand up to the hell you have been Through cause my greatist fear would be to leave this life not holding you.
