Chrous; when your gone I'll be holding to your love ha.ha

It been so long I haven't hear from you been waiting for you can't wait until you come throw that door what to know how you been my friend's say they see all the time but it not the same for me I miss your smile and your way you talk.
I have so many thing's to talk you that it may just change your mind about how you feel about me. chrous:same as up top It like when I think of you there a wind that blow ready want you how much I love you so I wonder were you are and where you been just hurt me when I see your friend's trying to ack like they don't know you They just want to use you but that not how I feel and that when I remember the you look at me
Made feel so free to be with you And this just didn't happen over night said I been feel this way for sometime just making me write you this letter and I'm sending this with my love to you hoping you get this soon...
