We took down the scarecrows and covered the windows
I noticed your fingers were trembling like leaves

You made me a shelter in your closet of skeleton
I go through your records and play "let it bleed"

Black clouds are moving, as you move inside me
You strip me of pleasures, you hunt and I pray

Repeating your stories, you know that they bore me
Shining around me a halo so cold

Hey, heroes on the move
Yeah that's what I wanna do
And I'm gonna look down
Hey, hey I'm waiting for you to come down
So we could change places and be hounds of love
Leave the ground behind

Black hail is falling and he won't stop calling
You have to go back there to find your way home

I find the house empty, so hollow yet tempting
You left me a letter that I never read

I used to believe him, I used to deceive him
My treasure was pride and so easy to steal
That's what they came for, that's what they aim for
The storm is all over and I'm all alone

Hey, heroes on the move
Yeah that's what I wanna do
And I'm gonna look down
Hey, hey I'm waiting for you to come down
So we could change places and be hounds of love
Leave the ground behind

We are, we are the last of our kind
We are, we are the road that you mined

Stepped into a life, jumped into a lake
Deeper than the grave I faked
You know you'll never learn so watch me while I burn

I opened the windows to feel how the wind blows
Sure there's a new scent of spring in the air
Baby, it's funny, I know you're still running
I left you behind me, though I stand still
