Dry your wings little butterfly,
You've got a night to live and the daylight dies.
Try your wings little butterfly,
Whatever gets you through it's gonna bleed you dry.

I got blinded, I got winded,
By the blue-eyed dress and the silver town
Never lost your will to die
Never ever cuts to fly

I knew that this would be so hard
Inside my california heart.

Close your eyes,
I won't hurt you.
Close your mind,
Love will hunt you down.

Dry your eyes little butterfly
You've got a night to kill now LA style
Backstabbed, wounded butterfly
You got the wings tied up and a purple sky
Say my name let your wings spread wide
Morning came with racing light

I knew that this would be so hard
Inside my california heart.

Close your eyes,
I won't hurt you.
Close your mind,
Love will hunt you down.

This time I had you from the start
(This time I had you from the start)
You broke my california heart
(You broke my california heart)
I fear my end has turned too dark
(I fear my end has turned too dark)
You broke a california heart

Close your eyes,

I won't hurt you.
Close your mind,
Love will hunt you down.

This time I had you from the start
(This time I had you from the start)
You broke my california heart
(You broke my california heart)
Your skin's so glowing in the dark
(You broke my california heart)
Your rains are flowing with the star

This time I had you from the start
You broke my california heart
I fear my every's turned too dark
