Stardust, Lady Stardust spread your hair across Your universe of magic, let us in Let's fly into the milky-way, climb these concrete walls And say don't ever close us in Like every city needs a distance, every sky demands a moon

Every winter needs a snowfall, every summer wants a June
Money is just a piece of paper, gold is blinding, don't you see?
Fame is just our own illusion of what life is meant to be But I don't need a perfect mirror, I don't care for queens and kings
We are free and we are perfect, when Lady Stardust sings

Play on
Oh, Lady Stardust sing
Play on
Lady Stardust sing

Stardust, Lady Stardust let us cruise Around your universe of magic, I'm in Let's play this song, on and on Until the dawn and never let them win

And every minute needs the hour, every day demands a night
Every giant supernova hits the city with your light Movie stars and grand directors, silver screens and MTV's
Gods and angels all around me fills the air like little bees
I don't need no superheroes, I don't care for gods with wings
I hear teardrops on the pavement when Lady Stardust
sings

Play on Lady Stardust sing, play on Lady Stardust sing

And I don't need no superheroes, I don't care for gods with wings
I hear teardrops on the pavement when Lady Stardust
sings
Oh Lady Stardust sing, Lady Stardust sing

Na, na, na ,na ,na, now she sings
Na, na, na ,na ,na, now she sings
Na, na, na ,na, I'll sing for you

I'll sing this song, so please hold on I'll sing this song for you and say something that matters
And say something that matters
Try to say something that matters to you, so please hold on
Try to say something that matters
