

Lisa Miskovsky"Once Gone, Always Missing"

Visit "Once Gone, Always Missing" on MotoLyrics.com

I know
You know
You knock
But I won't let you in

I hear
I see
They know
But they don't understand
And I won't hear

You gave me hard eyes
Won't let my guard down
But you taught me the rules
And the scars in a way set me free

Starlight, like the stars in your sky all alone
Yeah you know it's cruel but it's cool and the sparks of the sea
And when Jesus did there's nobody here to blame

So long
You're wrong
I am
Just another lamppost on your street

They scream
So loud
But I
I can't hear your name
Do you feel the same?

You gave me hard eyes
Won't let my guard down
But you taught me the rules
And the scars in a way set me free

Starlight, like the stars in the sky all alone
Yeah you know it's cruel but it's cool and the sparks of
the sea
And when Jesus did there's nobody left to blame

You gave me hard eyes
Won't let my guard down
But you taught me the rules
And the scars in a way set me free

Starlight, like the stars in your sky all alone
Yeah you know it's cruel but it's cool and the sparks of
the sea
And when Jesus did there's nobody here to blame

And all the things we left unsaid
I feel them rushing to my head
And in the sky above my head
I can tell that the stars...

And the things we left unsaid
I feel them rushing to my head
And in the sky above my head
I can tell that the stars...

Visit Lisa Miskovsky page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.