Why did you go away
You know you broke my heart
Every passing day
I feel a little lonelier
You'd said it'd be ok
It wouldn't last forever
I'm holding on but how long

I'm missing every moment of your love
I'm missing all your tenderness and your smile
I'm missing my baby

Will you ever save me
through this loneliness
that I feel
It's just so far away
Will you ever bring back all that happiness
That was said before you ran away

I know you work on it
Trying to make things better
It hurts the same I feel selfish that you do it for me
To build a family I'm holding on but how long

I'm missing every moment of your love
I'm missing all your tenderness and your smile
I'm missing my baby

Will you ever save me
through this loneliness
that I feel
It's just so far away
Will you ever bring back all that happiness
That was said before you ran away
Will you ever save me
that I feel
It's just so far away
Will you ever bring back all that happiness
That was said before you ran away

I'm missing every moment of your love
I'm missing all your tenderness and your smile
I'm missing my baby

Will you ever save me
that I feel
It's just so far away
Will you ever bring back all that happiness
That was said before you ran away

All my love is here for you and all my love is true

Will you ever save me
that I feel
Will you ever save me
that I feel
