It's an abstract place
Where I hold you
And the relief I felt gets confused
And I have cried
A couple of times when i'm wondering
About you...

And the morning
That i found out
what had happened
High, higher, higher

When all it took was a choice
Things could be different now
And I, I never feel
Your face resting on my chest
That vounerable embrace
Resting on my chest.

A shame we had to Say good bye before we met
I am forever-less

It's a cold walk to waking alive
When splits cause pressure
Steals the time
Oh and I have been rushed a panic sucked blush
And I'm wondering
About you...

When, all it took was a choice
Things could be different now
And I, I never feel
Your face resting on my chest
That vounerable embrace

Resting on my chest
The shame we had to say
Good bye before we met.
I am forever-less.

All it took was a choice.
Things could be different now

All it took was a choice
and the right to choose you do what you have to do

But I never feel your Face resting on my chest
That vulnerable embrace
resting on my chest
A shame we had to say good bye
Before we ever met
I am forever-less.
Forever...less
