Sometimes I can find a little piece of mind
But that's alright with me
'Cause I know, I could have told you so
When I think of all the words you said
Well that's enough for me
'Cause I know, I follow where you go
Yes I know, I follow where you go
Is there somewhere left to hide
Somewhere left inside
Now all you say and all you do
I will make it up to you
Everywhere you run to
Every road you come to
I'll follow where you go
Raise the mountains higher

Build a wall of fire
I'll follow where you go
Ever since I've had the time to change your mind
It's been a fight for me
But I know, I never hurt you so
When I think of all the tears you cried
Well that's a crime to me
'Cause I know, I follow where you go
Yes I know, I follow where you go
When the years of lonely cries
Swallow up your pride
And time and time again you say
Save it for a rainy day
I'll be looking out for you
Repeat Chorus...
