(Billy Austin/Greg Barnhill)

I don't need no sign, I don't need a map
'Cause, baby, I know right where I'm at with you
I'd never thought there'd be another time
But when I felt your hand in mine, I knew
So if you're thinking this is something that
Feels so good it'll never last
Let me take that worry from your mind
And I'll tell ya

I, I will be there
Like heaven, earth, and water, baby
I, I wanna breathe the same air
The same air that I know you're breathing, honey
Every morning, noon and night, you'll see
I'll never be that far out of your reach
I will be there

I must admit that I'm new at this
But you've got something I can't resist somehow
Like a horseshoe magnet and a paper clip
Baby, I'm drawn right to your lips right now
So if you're thinking I could walk away
Baby, I'm afraid it's a little late
I've already crossed the promise line
And I'll tell ya

I, I will be there
Like heaven, earth, and water, baby
I, I wanna breathe the same air
The same air that I know you're breathing, honey
Every morning, noon and night, you'll see
I'll never be that far out of your reach
I will be there

So if you're thinking this is something that
Feels so good it'll never last
Let me take that worry from your mind
And I'll tell ya
