I can remember days
Things was always the same
I used to make you smile
But only for a while
And now you can't come through
There's nothing I can do
I know some days are hard
But don't you make mine too
Cause I can't stand it
When you come home and you just fight for an ask
No I won't blow it
No I just hold it and keep it quiet
Every little earthquake
Every little heartbreak
Going unheard
Every little landslide
Catch it my hand I
Won't say a word
Every time you scold me
I know that it's smoking
Making you mind
Every clap thunder only makes my stronger
On the inside
