Sure is quiet, sky's too blue
You ain't hiding but I can't find you
Sheets on the line so, nothing's changed
Guess it's nothing left to say
Read you like an open book
Standing on the edge but you can't look down
Feel better if you just lie
You got leaving in your eyes,

If you just let one, tear fall down
That might tell me why you're hanging around
If you remember when, we started this
You might remember what you're gonna miss

Read you like an open book
Standing on the edge but you can't look down
Feel better if you just lie
You got leaving in your eyes,

In my suitcase, ain't no rain
No sign of life, no everything, at all

Open up the screen door and you're, looking out
Oh I can see it now, I read you like an open book
Standing on the edge but I can't look down
Feel better if you just lie

Read you like an open book
Standing on the edge but you can't look down
Feel better if you just lie
You got leaving in your eyes

You got leaving in your eyes.
