You, what you do You always find a way to make me fall in Love, deep in love I'm reminded every time we touch you're

Still the sweetest dream I know
Still the place I want to go
Still the one thought on my mind
After all this time, you're still in my heart
Yeah, you're still in my heart

You, it's always been you There's never been another that comes close to You and the way you move me Every time's like the first time, baby, you're

Still the sweetest dream I know
Still the place I want to go
Still the one thought on my mind
After all this time, you're still in my heart
Yeah, you're still in my heart

Still want you, still need you Still living just to love you Still crave you, still breathe you Still give my whole world for you, you're

Still the one star in my sky
Still the real love of my life
Still the beginning and the end
I'd do it all again, yeah, you're

Still the sweetest dream I know
Still the place I want to go
Still the one thought on my mind
After all this time, you're still in my heart, yeah

Still want you, still need you Still living just to love you Still crave you, still breathe you Still give my whole world for you Still want you, still need you Still living just to love you Still crave you, still breathe you Still give my whole world for you

Still want you, still need you Still living just to love you Still crave you, still breathe you Still give my whole world for you

Still want you, still need you Still living just to love you Still crave you
