i was made to move mountains i was born to be astounding i was grown with a good heart the type to dive in the waters and deal with the sharks whoever survived it yo we threw em on the arch no i aint noah and no i aint jesus just a man that grew up 2 brothers in the go up a single mother, but knowing his thank yous and his pleases dont mistake my niceness for weakness thats thinking you can touch nitroglycerine one touch freeze, dont feel it shiverin yah ice cold then the ground starts tremblin chorus

the shoulders brushed off the jeans clean i rocker her to sleep with no ginsing then hoped in the car with the rims that gleam and im like damn im the man thats how im feelin and when you feel that way your more appealing cause_____is king and doubts concealing and when your concealed yo your hiding your appeal and when you hide your appeal your lower then equal you use your pride as your shield and sometimes pride can be achilles heal so learn from mistakes and bandage up your heal then yah dive first and grab whats real when you feel that pressure going to your feet the type of pressure that gone make you buckle knees man you gotta step side, brush off your clothes then look deep inside and then i look into my kids eyes and when i look in their eyes all im seeing is pride and when i look in their eyes the reason why i die and when i look in their eyes the reason why i strive im moving mountains thirty grand high whoever on the cliff will take a thirty grand dive until you in this position wont understand why but whoever in this position will understand why
