Someone looking out for me

You can step right up and show yourself if you will

It seems like I've been hiding from my friends too long

You can take over for a while-- I need the rest

A chance to laugh it off

I ain't made sense in so long -- I almost quit trying

This can't be the way it's supposed to work

I've tried by myself and now I want to try it out with you

You may not believe I need it -- I haven't shown it in the past

It took me a while to get above myself

I barely made the test

you're out there and I feel you

So come on out of hiding

Someone looking out for me

You can step right up and show yourself if you will

It seems like I've been hiding from my friends too long

You can take over for a while -- I need the rest

A chance to laugh it off

I ain't made sense in so long -- I almost quit trying
